SX1A  Content. Staaken airfield is occupied by an air transport squadron which was repeatedly observed conducting flying in December. Although the personnel strength of this unit is not believed to be high, it appears doubtful whether strength of 00 men estimated by source of paragraph 2 is correct. The few air craft of the transport squadron are parked mostly in the hangars so that the	L a field often appears to be unoccupied. 5X1A  Commont. This statement refers to the Adcock DF station which has been reported several times.
